

OUR APPROACH TO AI (ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE) TOOLS

We recognise that many organisations will be exploring the use of AI tools in their work, including in drafting funding applications. This is a decision for individual organisations to take and we have no preference.

If you do use AI to help you draft your application, please make sure it is an accurate reflection of your work and plans.

The Baring Foundation does not currently use AI to aid its decision-making about grants or in our administrative processes.

We recognise that this is a fast-moving area of technology and our approach may need to shift as the possibilities and implications of AI become clearer. This policy will be updated accordingly.
